

Growing...

and Improving!

Western Container continues to develop our next generation, with the most state of the art equipment, facility and training programs.

Since 1942 Western Container has been an industry leader in the manufacturing, designing and distribution of paper cores throughout the Midwest. Our recent additions to our production facility and manufacturing capacities include the following.

- 3 plant additions over the last 5 years
- 2 fully automated re-cutters
- 2 brand new winding lines
- 24 hour a day facility operation to help get you the product you need as quickly as possible.

Western Container is a full line custom paper core manufacturer with the capabilities to produce almost any core within the industry, cost effectively and quickly. For more information about Western Container please visit our site www.westerncontainercorp.com
